

Backup Mail Service

Backup Mail Service is recommended for clients hosting their own email server. It is simply a fact that email servers and internet services do occasionally go down, and when that happens, you don't want your incoming email to be lost. Nothing looks worse than to ask a client to re-send an email you never received. And with Backup Mail Service, you never have to!

For a low, flat yearly rate, each email domain can be protected. Emails will be saved for as long as a week, and when your service is restored, email will automatically begin getting delivered, completely hands-free. And optionally, you may purchase a plan that includes complete web-mail which would allow you to not only save incoming emails, but allow you to login, retrieve and send emails on a per-user basis for complete Email continuity.
